INSPECTOR VANCE IS AGAIN ATTACKED

DICTATORSHIP MAY BE ESTABLISHED IN REVOLT-TORN SPAIN

Rebellion in Catalonia Crushed by Government Forces and Uprisings Gradually Being Put Down in Other Parts of Country—Casualties in Four Days' Fighting Total Thousands

MADRID, Oct. 8.—A military dictatorship for revolt-torn Spain was forecast in responsible parliamentary circles as supporters of the erstwhile monarchy joined 12,000 retired army officers in offering their aid to the Right Wing Government of Premier Alejandro Lerroux.

Yesterday, Catalonia's revolution for independence collapsed under a heavy bombardment of shell fire. The Spanish Government appeared to be smashing down the uprising.

Leaders of the secession, including President Lluís Companys of Catalonia, were captured and marched through silent crowds to a prison ship in Barcelona harbor, where they are to be court-martialed and probably sentenced to death. They surrendered with Spanish destroyers and legionnaires from Morocco converging upon the Catalonia political capital.

A high ranking deputy, whose name could not be revealed, told the Associated Press "this uncertainty, if it continued, will end in military dictatorship."

"The Government should take the first drastic steps to end the revolt, since otherwise the dictatorship seems inevitable," he said.

A military dictatorship, that of General Primo de Rivera, ruled Spain from 1923 to 1930 in conjunction with the monarchy.

As reports reaching the capital indicated today's heavy fighting, with its estimated thousands of casualties, had hammered rebels into mere sporadic activity except in northern Asturias, the Viscount of Cubas offered the monarchists' services to the republic.

FRANCE FIRM AGAINST REDS

Country Backing Government's Opposition to Socialists and Communists

PARIS, Oct. 8 (CP-Havas).—Latest tabulations on France's national elections, today, showed the country firmly backing Premier Gaston Doumergue's Government in its opposition to the United Socialist and Communist front.

Returns indicated a clear-cut majority for "Papa" Doumergue and his "political truth" Government, and qualified observers and the press generally were of the opinion that final results would not materially change the set-up.

The Republican-Democratic Union, a conservative group backing the present Government, scored the heaviest gain, increasing its seats by nine. The Communists cornered ten seats, a loss of two.

IMPORTANT INDICATOR
The cantonal elections are of great importance politically, as they serve as an indicator of the public's sentiments and reveal the strength of political parties. Those elected form the electoral college for the Senate.

Statistics of the Interior Ministry, late this afternoon, showed candidates elected to 1,201 of the 1,518 seats at issue. The remaining 317 seats, candidates for which failed to get the necessary majority, will undergo another vote.

STRANDED TANKER LITTLE DAMAGED
Ss. Salvage King Makes Fast Time in Re-floating Standard Service—Returning Today

Summoned early Saturday morning to go to the assistance of the stranded American tanker, Standard Service, which had gone ashore on Roat Bluff, British Columbia coast, the Ss. Salvage King, of the Pacific Salvage Company, was under way at 7:30 o'clock, reaching the scene of the stranding Sunday morning.

According to advices received here by A. C. Burdick, president of the Pacific Salvage Company, the Standard Service was successfully refloated at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Making an inspection of the tanker, it was found that she had sustained no serious damage, and she proceeded to her destination. She was bound from Seattle for Ketchikan with a cargo of gasoline.

The Salvage King is due back here this morning.

WILL SUPPORT FIVE-DAY WEEK

American Federation of Labor Pledges All Its Power Behind Move

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8 (AP).—The American Federation of Labor, today, pledged all its power to establish the five-day, thirty-hour week in the hope of ending unemployment.

Amid tumultuous cheers and without a dissenting vote, the Federation convention approved a resolution binding the big labor organization to spare no effort in obtaining legislation for the shorter work period, with no reductions in wages.

"Nothing shall stop us short of realization of our purpose," said William Green, Federation president, as the action was taken.

The thirty-hour week commitment put the matter into the hands of the federation's executive committee and gave that body discretionary authority in carrying out the desires of the organization.

Green termed the shorter work move "the only constructive remedy to relieve unemployment." There were 10,000,000 jobless persons in the United States, he said.

Thanksgiving Day, the last of the "long-week-end" holidays for this year, was observed in Victoria with services of praise and thanksgiving on Sunday and sports and out-of-door recreation yesterday.

Although grey clouds obscured the sun for the greater part of yesterday, there was no rain to mar the sports programme, which was featured with football games at Royal Athletic Park, motorcycle hill-climb at Mount Douglas and other sports suitable for the Fall season.

MANY AT PARKS
Sunday was an ideal holiday and citizens took every advantage of it to roam through the parks and enjoy the Autumn scenery. Heavy rain tumbled out of the skies late in the evening, but cleared before morning.

Thanksgiving services and harvest festivals were held in most of the churches in the city and good congregations were reported. The customary Thanksgiving Day service was conducted at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church at 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

As usual, on the long-week-end holidays, hundreds of persons vacated the city for the broad highways, visited summer homes or made the journey to Up-Island points for fishing and other forms of wholesome entertainment.

Three Oil Plants Destroyed by Fire At Medicine Hat

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., Oct. 8 (CP).—Fire, believed to have been caused by the exhaust of an engine, today destroyed the plants and tanks of the Imperial Oil Company, the British American Oil Company, and the Prairie City Oil Company at Bow Island, west of here, causing damage estimated at $20,000. No one was injured.

COALITION PLAN FAILS

New Australian Cabinet to Be Formed Without Party Union

MELBOURNE, Oct. 8 (CP Cable via Reuters).—Negotiations for formation of a coalition government in Australia, made necessary when the present Government lost its independent majority in the last general elections, collapsed today.

They had been carried on between Prime Minister J. A. Lyons, head of the United Australia party, and Dr. Earle Page, leader of the Country party, whose support or benevolent neutrality would be necessary to enable the U.A.P. to control the new Parliament over the threat of the Labor Opposition.

DISAGREE OVER TARIFFS
Following disagreements over the tariff question and the proportion of Cabinet seats that should be accorded the Country party, Premier Lyons intimated that he would go ahead with the formation of a new Cabinet drawn entirely from the United Australia party.

In the final stage of the negotiations, the Country party leader had asked an impartial inquiry into the best means of implementing the Ottawa agreements, an inquiry to ascertain what items now on the protected tariff list add unduly to costs of production in Australian industries, and, thirdly, that the parties be represented in the new Cabinet in proportion to their Parliamentary strength.

The latter demand would mean a third of the Cabinet seats for the Country party, whereas the maximum Cabinet offer from Premier Lyons was three seats, one being an assistant minister's post.

UNACCEPTABLE DELAYS
Premier Lyons stated proposals regarding tariff and fiscal questions would involve great delays that were unacceptable to this party, and, therefore, he would not continue the coalition negotiations.

The Ministry would appear to be fairly safe, inasmuch as the differences between the Country and United Australia parties are negligible, compared to the divergence between the Country party and the Labor Opposition.

BRITISH MAN-O-WAR SAVES CREW OF FREIGHTER ASHORE ON DANGEROUS REEF

HONGKONG, Oct. 8 (AP).—Wireless reports from H.M.S. Suffolk tonight told thrilling details of rescuing the crew of the freighter City of Cambridge, aground on the dangerous Pratas Reef.

In a howling typhoon, which swept the coast over the week-end, sixty of the freighter's crew of eighty men were reported to have been taken off the stranded vessel.

For an entire day, the cruiser, dispatched from here to the aid of the City of Cambridge, made fruitless attempts to send small boats into the lagoon, where the freighter had been driven on the rocks. Moun-tainous waves kept the rescuers in constant danger of being swamped.

Gratified at Response to Bond Issue

OTTAWA, Oct. 8 (CP).—"The sale of Dominion Refunding Loan bonds will continue for a further limited time," stated Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance, in expressing his gratification at the total of more than $210,000,000 in Dominion bonds actually recorded in the Department of Finance up to this evening. No further figures will be known until Tuesday, owing to the Thanksgiving holiday. It is known, however, that a substantial amount of subscriptions was taken in by bond dealers and banks at the end of last week. These have yet to reach the department.

Unwilling To Return Documents

LONDON, Oct. 8 (CP).—Nothing short of "pressure" will induce him to return Cabinet documents acquired during his term in office, George Lansbury, the veteran Labor leader, said tonight, commenting on the demand of the Government that all ex-ministers return state documents in their possession.

"I consider this a personal matter," said Lansbury.

Lansbury is believed to be the only former Cabinet member who has balked at the Government demand, a move declared to have originated with the discovery that important documents formerly in possession of ministers now dead, were floating around second-hand book shops in London.

Second Assault on Vancouver Criminologist in Three Days — Thug Hides Outside Garage and Throws Searing Liquid Through Window — Victim Saves His Eyes With Hand

VANCOUVER, Oct. 8.—Following closely upon the attempt to kill him with a bomb last Saturday, Inspector J. F. C. B. Vance, head of the bureau of science of the Vancouver Police Department, was attacked and badly burned this afternoon by an unidentified man who sprayed him with sulphuric acid. He is now in the Vancouver General Hospital.

The scene of the diabolical assault was the same as the attempt to blow him up on Saturday; his private garage, at his residence on Adera Street. The inspector entered his garage at 4:20 p.m., and noticed that the window was open. He stepped towards it, and as he did a man, who was hiding outside of the building, leaned through the window and threw the contents of a wide-mouthed jam jar over the criminologist.

Inspector Vance instinctively raised his right arm and hand to shield his eyes, at which the acid was directed. It was fortunate that he did so, for the biting liquid burned deeply into his hand, and the side of his face, while the major portion fell and struck him on the knee. So potent was the acid that it burned the trousers cloth from his leg and cut deeply into the flesh.

His calls for aid brought members of his family and he was assisted into the house. Medical assistance was secured, and he was removed to hospital.

FIFTH ATTEMPT
This is the fifth effort by the underworld to destroy Inspector Vance's usefulness this year. On Saturday a powerful bomb was attached to the exhaust pipe of his automobile. It was discovered by his son after the fuse was lit, by the backfire from the engine, and the fuse was removed in time to prevent the explosion.

The inspector was due to leave this afternoon to attend the autopsy at Nanaimo, where his evidence was required in a case.

Inside of the garage, police later found a roughly pencilled note: "On the paper was a crude picture of a man's head, with the caption, 'Blindness,' and the words: 'Hannah—Hannah's Pain.'"

Inspector Vance was able to give a good description of the man who threw the acid on him today. This he furnished to detectives who visited him.

TRACTOR PARTY BACK IN CAMP

Members of Byrd Expedition Caught in Blizzard Re-establish Contact

LITTLE AMERICA, Antarctica, Oct. 8 (Via Mackay Radio-AP).—The Eastern tractor party of the Byrd Antarctic expedition launched a terrific blizzard 180 miles from this base, re-established contact with headquarters last night.

Members of the party, headed by Harold June, reported a sixty-mile gale had wrecked the radio and torn away several tents. June and his associates spent many uncomfortable hours in the cramped quarters of the tractor, which was virtually covered with snow.

The weather was moderating, and with temperatures hovering around 4 degrees above zero, the expedition was preparing to resume its explorations.

The second tractor party, headed by Commander George O. Noville, left this base yesterday for the Bolling weather station, 123 miles south of here by trail. The second tractor carried 3,000 pounds of dog pemican and equipment for two sledging parties, which will set out from the weather base to explore Queen Maude range and the roof of the South Polar plateau.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8 (AP).—The American Federation of Labor convention referred to its executive council, today, a proposal by Oregon and Washington delegates that the federation support legislation at Washington to finance the extension of the Pacific International Highway through Canada to Alaska.

It sought support for House bill No. 6538, by Delegate A. J. Diamond, of Alaska, appropriating $2,000,000 for the survey and construction. It would also empower the President to negotiate with the Canadian Government to determine a route mutually agreeable to the two countries.

LEAVES TRAPS TO STUDY ART

Rene Richard Forsakes North for Studio to Depict Nature Pictures

MONTREAL.—The northland lost one of its most skillful trappers when Rene Richard left to dwell somewhere in the woods just outside of Montreal. However, painting gained a pupil of more than average ability in this young trapper-artist, who has come down this way to pursue his art studies.

Born in Switzerland, he came to Quebec as a child and was educated in Montreal. His family travelled west, where his father still operates a trading post in Cold Lake Settlement.

NEEDED THE MONEY
It was his interest in art that made a trapper out of him, for he needed the money to study in Paris, and the only way was to earn it by trapping. So for three years he saved and finally had enough money to journey across and follow his studies in the French capital, the centre of art interest.

The head of the Luxembourg Galleries and Clarence Gagnon, noted Canadian artist, who was in Paris at the time, both stated Richard had an exceptional ability, possibly the greatest talent ever produced in Canada. He is noted for his scenes depicting nature as he found it on canoe journeys and trapping trips.

Expressions Of Regret Exchanged

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Oct. 8 (CP-Havas).—With mutual expressions of regret, France and Turkey today amicably settled the unpleasant situation resulting from the firing of coast defence guns as two French warships, the Cassard and the Guepard, entered the forbidden Gulf of Smyrna, yesterday.

Bound on a courtesy visit, the destroyers were unaware that Turkish authorities had declared the Gulf of Smyrna a forbidden zone. An official statement indicated that as the ships entered, coastal batteries opened fire with blank shells.

ited him at the hospital. Chief Cameron set in motion every branch of the police organization in an endeavor to catch the man. One suspect was brought to headquarters, but was later liberated. All roads out of the city, boats, trains and small boat wharves are being closely watched, while one of the most systematic searches in many years is being conducted throughout the city itself.

PREVIOUS ATTEMPTS

The first attempt to kill Inspector Vance was on March 8, when a bomb was sent through the mail to him. He became suspicious on receipt of the parcel and immersed it in a multifarious solution before opening it. It proved to be a cleverly-constructed and deadly contrivance which would cause a terrific explosion when the string on the package was severed. Nine days later another bomb was deposited beneath the library window at his home, but was discovered in time. On April 17 he put to flight a man who was lurking about his house, with obvious intent of doing him injury.

A police guard was maintained about the Vance home for several months, but this was discontinued later.

TERROR OF CRIMINAL

Arch-enemy of British Columbia criminals and instrumental in putting scores of them behind prison bars, Inspector J. F. C. Vance has brought the power of science to aid police in solving what otherwise might have been "perfect crimes."

Particles of dust, bits of glass, paper, sand and a multitude of other clues which, to the layman, are of no significance, are fitted together in jigsaw puzzle fashion by the inspector, to make a trail leading time and again to the arrest and conviction of the perpetrator of a crime.

More than one criminal, believing himself secure with an ironclad alibi, has broken down to plead guilty and throw himself on the mercy of the court when he learned that Inspector Vance had worked on the case.

The inspector came to Vancouver as city analyst twenty-seven years ago, fresh from the gold fields of Interior British Columbia, where he had been employed as a metallurgist at the Iron Mask Mine near Kamloops.

SCIENCE BUREAU
He turned more and more to criminal investigation until, three years ago, the police bureau of science was created with him in charge of it.

One example of the inspector's reconstruction of a crime and description of a criminal, was the following:

Two criminals were caught in the act of burglarizing a Chinese vegetable store. One was shot and killed by the awakened proprietor. The other fled before anyone could get a description of him in the dark. The dead man was about six feet tall.

Inspector Vance went to the scene and found where the burglar had gained entry to the store through a window. When they opened the window the slain bandit had stood on the grass while his companion was forced to stand on a stone ledge below the window. The shorter one had also scraped his knee against the side of the store below the window in an effort to get more purchase.

DESCRIBED BURGLAR

From the footprints on the ledge and the place where the knee had scraped, Inspector Vance figured out the burglar's height. With that he combined the size of the footprints with the manner in which they had been made, to get the man's weight.

Armed with this description, police searched for such a man who had been a companion of the slain burglar. Within a week the man was arrested and confessed to his participation in the burglary.

The inspector also takes a turn at inventing. He is now perfecting a mechanical nose, which will enable police to follow the trail of a criminal by means of scent.

Purse Snatchers Rob Young Woman

Confronted by two youths on Richmond Road, shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Miss Mary Pearson, housemaid at 330 Dennison Road, was relieved of her purse, containing $16 in bills and a money order for $20.

The purse snatchers, believed to be young men, had their faces partly covered with ordinary handkerchiefs for disguise, and grabbed Miss Pearson's purse from her hand as she was about to pass them. After securing the purse, the two made off at a run and disappeared.

TWO MEN KILLED IN WRECK OF FREIGHT

train at anywhere from thirty-five to 100 men. One report placed the number that climbed on at North Battleford at fifty. General Superintendent W. C. Owens, of the C.N.R., here, said tonight that as railway men could estimate there were sixty-two unauthorized passengers on the train.

OTHER DEATHS FEARED

Although the rails are clear, the train still lay six feet deep among the debris on the right-of-way tonight and Mr. Owens said it was feared two additional bodies would be found by the wrecking crews.

These would be the bodies of two men whose companions loyally stayed at the scene of the accident. The C.N.R. ferryman reported that approximately thirty men, mostly of foreign extraction, came flocking to his ferry like a herd of frightened sheep within an hour after the time of the wreck, and it was concluded that the men fled in fear of arrest for trespassing, once the police took charge.

Wrecking crews from both Saskatoon and North Battleford are making all possible haste in clearing the debris. It was said today at Borden that the work might occupy the rest of the week.

SPEEDING AROUND BEND

Survivors of the wreck said the derailment had occurred when the train was speeding around a bend the miles from Copestake bridge, the pile-up coming a few minutes after the application of the brakes.

Superintendent Owens explained tonight that the application of the air brakes was automatic and effective and could not have thrown cars from the rails. He ascribed the accident to a broken axle on one of the cars.

The most pathetic incident of the accident was the case of Henry Epp, the Hodgeville district farm lad, who was found with one leg jammed in a trap of twisted metal and wood. Hack saws and other tools were piled for several hours in frantic efforts to free the man. At 3 a.m., four and a half hours after the crash, Epp was finally freed. By the light of several lanterns and a flashlight, two doctors and three nurses amputated the crushed, imprisoned limb, using a wrecked and tilted boxcar as their operating theatre. Epp was taken to the hospital at North Battleford where he died some hours later.

In common with Christian churches throughout Canada, First Church of Christ, Scientist, Victoria, held a Thanksgiving service yesterday.

The service was well attended and many expressed their gratitude for the healing and regenerating power of Christian Science.

The lesson - sermon was on "Thanksgiving," and the Golden Text was: "Thanks be unto God for His unspeakable gift" (II Corinthians 9:15).

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon were the following: "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits; Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; Who healeth all thy diseases" (Psalms 103, 2, 3); and "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need," from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy.

BERLIN, Oct. 8 (AP).—Six persons were killed today, and fifteen injured, in a mysterious accident at an unnamed "machine works" at Stendal.

MAY CAST LOT WITH GERMANY

Italy Sees Numerous Signs of Yugoslavia's Coolness for France

ROME, Oct. 8 (AP).—Whether Yugoslavia will cast her future lot with France or Germany was an intensely interesting question considered by Mussolini's Government as King Alexander of Yugoslavia prepared to leave for Paris.

The Yugoslavian king is en route for a three-day discussion, with Premier Gaston Doumergue and Foreign Minister Louis Barthou. Italy is following Alexander's visit with the same close attention she paid to recent developments indicating to the Italian mind that Yugoslavia is gradually pulling away from France and looking to Germany.

OBVIOUS DEVELOPMENTS

These developments are:
1. Yugoslavia refused, despite French pressure and the example of the other Little Entente nations, Czechoslovakia and Rumania, to recognize Soviet Russia.

2. Yugoslavia supported the recent Polish minorities proposal at Geneva, which France opposed.

3. Yugoslavia demurred over the entrance of Soviet Russia into the League of Nations, which France supported.

4. Yugoslavia objected to the European Pact guaranteeing Austrian independence, advanced by France and Italy.

5. Yugoslavia has been harboring Austrian Nazis in concentration at Maribor since the recent revolt, starting with Dollfuss' assassination.

Caddy Entertains Dozen Persons on Waterfront

Thanksgiving Day was one of marine object they had ever seen. It answered to the description given for Caddy—head like that of a camel, neck, long body and tail showing above the water from time to time as he played about for between two and three minutes before he disappeared from view. The most remarkable feature of the episode was the waves that he created on the otherwise calm sea. Only a large creature could have caused such a commotion.

"I never believed in Caddy, but I have to believe my own eyes. You won't believe me, but you will have to believe your own eyes, too, when you see him," declared Mr. Willoughby.

With several others, Mr. Willoughby was parked on Dallas Road, overlooking Horseshoe Bay and the Straits. His attention was attracted by something unusual in the water, and the occupants of his car hurried to the cliff for a nearer view. Other persons in the vicinity were heading in the same direction. Just off a kelp bed, at the entrance to Horseshoe Bay, they saw the stranger.

MALCOLM BRUCE IS HEARD HERE

Released Communist Leader Tells of Conditions in Kingston Prison

Conditions in Kingston prison were "exposed" by Malcolm Bruce, one of the eight Communist leaders recently released from the penitentiary, at a public meeting held in the A.O.F. Hall, last night. Approximately 300 persons were present.

The speaker went into considerable detail of the trial of the eight Communists, and their experiences in the penitentiary. He stated prisoners were given the "paddle" for protesting or disobeying the petty rules, such as smoking against the rules, and other minor infractions.

Mr. Bruce described the paddle as a strap, twenty inches long, three inches wide and a quarter of an inch thick. It had diamond-shaped holes in it, so that when the blow was struck the flesh on the prisoner's back was opened. The prisoner, he said, was strapped to a machine to keep him from squirming.

DENOUNCES CONDITIONS

He also denounced the sanitary conditions, the hospital, the dungeons and other things that he charged were nothing but relics of the medieval age.

In the second part of his address, Mr. Bruce outlined the objects of the Communist party in Canada. At the conclusion of the meeting, a resolution was passed demanding the release of Tim Buck, Communist leader, and Arthur Evans, another Communist, who is in Oakalla Penitentiary.

"Yes," said the enthusiastic motorist, "she'll do eighty-five."

"Per hour, per gallon, or perhaps?" inquired the wag.

WELFARE WORK APPRECIATED

Many Letters Received by Friendly Help From Those Who Have Been Aided

Any person doubting the appreciation of the unfortunate people in Greater Victoria who are being continually helped along by welfare organizations should take a look at the files in the headquarters of the Friendly Help Welfare Association, at 1234 Pandora Avenue, where the letters of thanks are kept for reference.

Many of the letters state that their writers do not know what they would have done if the Welfare Association had not sent along timely assistance.

"We did not know where to turn," writes a mother of four. "My husband could find no steady employment and the youngsters were needing shoes and clothing, and our wood pile was precariously low. Then some kind friend mentioned our name to you, and before we knew it, we were helped along considerably. Now my husband's work is a little more steady, and I think I can see our way out. But your help was certainly appreciated. We hope we will be able to do as much for some other needy family some day."

It is to enable unfortunate families of Greater Victoria to have some haven to which to turn in their troubles that the Friendly Help Welfare Association and welfare organizations in the neighboring municipalities will appeal for the sum of $43,500, starting October 15. This amount is necessary to keep these organizations functioning smoothly for the coming twelve months.

REBELS ARE DEFEATED

Only in the Asturias mining district of Meres did organized opposition continue, dispatches filtering through wrecked communications systems indicated, while rebels elsewhere had been driven underground or, in desperation, to sniping and disorders.

What the toll of the artillery bombardment of Jigon and Oviedo, two northern cities recaptured today from the rebels, was, none in Madrid knew, but estimates that took into account the four days of bitter fighting, the use of artillery in Catalonia and elsewhere, placed the dead and wounded in the thousands.

Reports that resistance was dying out in Asturias were brought to the capital by reconnoitring and bomb-

SUBMISSION FORECAST

Difficult to approach, the territory is full of insurgent fortified places, they said.

In the capital the never-say-die rebels fired from the top of the Barcelona Cathedral. The Government, its prisoners in Catalonia alone numbering more than 2,000, began preparations to court martial Luis Companys and his aides.

There were reports from Logrono that revolutionaries tonight seized the town of Cereva, took possession of the armories and partially destroyed two churches before assault guards ousted them. Three rebels were killed and several wounded.

MASONIC PARTY DUE SATURDAY

Nearly 500 Washington Royal Arch Members to Visit Here

Victoria will be host, next weekend, to nearly 500 Royal Arch Masons, their wives and friends, who will leave Seattle on Saturday at 1 p.m. for this city, to hold an international and fraternal gathering here.

ARRANGE DINNER

A dinner for the visitors will be held in the Shrine Auditorium, at 6 o'clock, Saturday evening, and this dinner will be followed by the international meeting, to be held in the Masonic Hall. The ladies will be entertained during the business session by a large committee of ladies whose husbands are members of the Victoria lodge. After the meeting, a dance will be held in the Shrine Hall.

At 9 o'clock on Sunday morning, a caravan will be formed to take the visitors on a trip through the famous Butchart's gardens.

The closest panel from the Hauptmann home, with the telephone number of "Jafate" the intermediary—Dr. John Condon—written on it, was brought to Flemington.

The jurors were also given the report of Arthur Koehler, wood technician of the Federal Forestry Service, who avowed the lumber used in making the ladder, upon which the kidnapper climbed to baby Lindbergh's nursery, was purchased at a Bronx yard where Hauptmann worked prior to the kidnapping.

SAFETY DRIVE BEGINS TODAY

Victoria Thoroughfares Must Be Made Safe, Says Police Chief Heatley

Public thoroughfares must be made safe for traffic; street intersections must not become veritable death traps; pedestrians must be protected, and, at the same time, be required to exercise reasonable caution in crossing streets; cyclists must be discouraged from jay-riding.

With these points in mind, Chief Thomas Heatley and his department will, this morning, bring into effect Victoria's second Safety Week campaign.

HAND SIGNALING

During the week, Chief Heatley and Inspector John T. Boulton will personally supervise demonstrations of hand signaling. In this regard, motorists must realize the necessity of having a complete knowledge of all signals for the safety of pedestrians at intersections, according to the chief.

PIONEER OF CITY PASSES

Mrs. E. M. Etheridge Dies in Hospital Here—Funeral Rites Thursday

Mrs. Euphemie Mary Etheridge, aged seventy-one years, Wilkinson Road, widow of Ernest L. Etheridge, passed away at St. Joseph's Hospital on Sunday. She was born in Lakefield, Peterborough County, Ontario, and had been a resident of Victoria and vicinity since 1879.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. E. D. Comley, Ladysmith; Mrs. H. Newby, Vancouver; Mrs. Beatrice Hodson, Colquitz; and Miss Gertrude Etheridge, at home; one son, E. Reginald Etheridge; eleven grandchildren, and two brothers, E. Stuart Wood, Kamloops, and Fred H. Wood, Brooklyn.

The remains are resting at McCall Bros' Funeral Home, and the funeral will be held on Thursday, at 2:30 o'clock, at Wilkinson Road United Church, Rev. William Allan, assisted by Rev. Thomas Keyworth, will officiate, and interment will be made in Royal Oak Burial Park.

UNION MEETING OFFERS THANKS

Various Denominations Hold Joint Service in St. Andrew's Church

Following the practice inaugurated by the Ministerial Association, the annual union thanksgiving service was held yesterday forenoon. The service was held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, with Rev. William Allan, of Wilkinson Road United Church, addressing the congregation on a subject appropriate to the occasion.

In opening the exercises, Rev. Dr. E. A. Henry, who presided, expressed the satisfaction, which he felt certain the association would endorse, that there was such a good attendance at the service. He also voiced regret that Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell, pastor of the church, was unable to be present owing to illness. It had been the intention to have Mr. Luttrell take part in the service; but he was confined to his bed, and unable even to attend.

Rev. William Allan drew lessons from the Old Testament, showing that the children of Israel had been thankful for the deliverance from the Egyptians and had rallied around Moses in a great thanksgiving service when Miriam, the sister of Moses, led in the singing. There was great jubilation that the Hand of God had saved them and delivered them. They were ready to sing unto the Lord, "The Lord Shall Reign for Ever and Ever."

MURMURS FOLLOWED

Only a few days later, however, when they encountered the bitter waters, the people forgot their cause for thanksgiving and began murmuring. God, however, showed Moses the sweet waters and restored their faith. This was but an example of the human experience. They became ecstatic when they were the recipients of great blessings, only to relapse again when troubles came.

The speaker, however, asked members of the audience to count their blessings. They should, when inclined to find fault with the afflictions and evil experiences, reflect upon the commonplace blessings that were their lot. How often he asked, did they offer thanks for the everyday things that made life bearable. The Giver of all good things should well be thanked for these blessings.

COMMONPLACE THINGS

It was not the great outstanding events which alone showed the hand of God. They should rejoice, said Mr. Allan, in the commonplace things. Then they would be able to say, "Yea, though I walk through the Valley of the Shadow of Death, I will fear no evil, for God is with me."

Miss Edith Howell sang an appropriate solo during the service, with Jesse A. Longfield presiding at the organ. The Scripture lesson was read by Rev. J. S. Patterson, of Knox Presbyterian Church, and Rev. F. W. McKinnon, of Douglas Street Baptist Church, offered prayer. An offering was taken for the Citizens' Recreation Rooms.

MRS. J. LESUEUR CALLED TO REST

The death occurred on Sunday, at St. Joseph's Hospital, of Mrs. Annie Elizabeth (Minnie) Lesueur, aged sixty-two years, 1272 Walnut Street. Born in Oxford, England, Mrs. Lesueur had resided here for the past forty-five years. She was a member of Princess Alexandra Lodge, Daughters of England.

She is survived by her husband, Joseph Lesueur, at home, and Mrs. K. V. Gaul, Port Angeles; one grandson, Kenneth; two sisters in England and a brother in Washington. The funeral, which will be held under the auspices of Princess Alexandra Lodge, will take place tomorrow, at 2:15 o'clock, at Carter's Funeral Home, Rev. Canon F. A. P. Chadwick will officiate, and the remains will be forwarded to Port Angeles for cremation.

Disastrous Fire Razes City of Nome

These photographs show the ruins of Nome's business district, swept by fire which practically razed the famed city of the Far North. The only structures to survive the scourge of the flames are pictured in the background. The largest (at right) is the Hammond apartment house. The Catholic Church and the United States radio station also were saved by the heroic citizen fire fighters. Fully thirty blocks of the Alaskan city were wiped out by conflagration.

WRECKERS END SAILING DAYS

Famous Clipper, Howard D. Troop, Sold for Junk in California

SAINT JOHN, N.B.—Clanging crowbars and cutting torches have sounded the swan song of a famous fleet. Grateful as the day she was launched, the last and finest of eighty-eight clipper ships formerly sailing out of Saint John under the flag of the Troop Line, passed to wreckers' hands in California waters this month.

The steel-hulled vessel, built on the Clyde, was the first named Howard D. Troop after her original Saint John owner, but to wreckers in the Alameda estuary of California, she was the Annie M. Reed, last of the fleet of James Rolph, Jr., former Governor of that state and Mayor of San Francisco. Thus the speedy ship, which outdistanced all others of her class on the Pacific, came to an end at a distant port and under a strange name.

BEAUTIFUL CRAFT
James Rolph kept alive the glamour of clipper ships in an age of steam and electricity. He bought the Howard D. Troop after her Saint John owner died twenty-two years ago and renamed the beautiful craft Annie M. Reed in honor of his wife. For years the 300-foot ship with four towering masts remained idle at Oakland Creek, Cal., with her old Nova Scotian captain, Irvine Durkee, still in charge. The six other units of the Rolph fleet preceded her to the junkyard.

The stately vessel saw Howard D. Troop's admission that the days of wooden ships had passed. Built with a steel hull, she was constructed at Glasgow and started her maiden voyage from Greenock in February, 1892. The 2,200-ton vessel, first commanded by Captain Parker, made history in a speedy dash across the Atlantic to save her owners a $95,000 charter. The passage from New York Island, north of Ireland, to Troy was made in thirteen days and two hours. This time remained unbroken as a record for a vessel for her type.

MADE FAST TIME

On a Pacific route in 1909 the Howard D. Troop made Astoria twenty days out from Yokohama.

NOT FAVORED BY FOREIGN OFFICE

Japanese Ministry Believes Tariff Increases on Wheat and Corn Would Be Unwise

Japanese tariff revision is under the close scrutiny of the Tariff Investigation Committee at the present time, according to advices from Tokyo. The commission is holding conferences once a week with the Finance Ministry. Petitions of businessmen to various ministries have been transferred to this commission and are now being studied. The Finance Ministry is hoping to bring about a new tariff increase in consideration of financial inflation and the issue of budgetary deficit bonds. Both the Agriculture and the Commerce Ministries want to raise import duties on wheat and corn to protect the farmers, but the Foreign Office is against such a proposal.

The Foreign Office reportedly believes that a tariff increase will only prod the powers into taking retaliatory measures to bring more pressure to bear on Japanese merchandise abroad. An imposition of a tax on heavy industry products, instead of boosting tariffs to make good part of the deficit, is recommended by the Foreign Office.

The Commerce Minister is reported to have decided to submit to the next session of the Diet a bill calling for expenses required in controlling export goods. Big business and industrial leaders are of the opinion that the control of export goods is not adequate to further industrial development of Japan, and claim the need of organizing a better control system.

EXPECTS MANY TO WINTER ON COAST

A. E. Robertson, Assistant General Manager of C.P.R. Hotels, Is City Visitor

Judging from the many inquiries already received regarding reduced winter rates on the Canadian Pacific Railway and in company hotels on the Pacific Coast, a number of Eastern people are expected to spend the months from November to March in British Columbia.

This was the message brought to Victoria yesterday by A. E. Robertson, Winnipeg assistant general manager of C.P.R. hotels. After spending a day at the Empress Hotel, he left on the midnight boat for Vancouver.

Mr. Robertson said the C.P.R. winter golf tournament will again be held this season in Victoria, and it is expected that there will be a large entry.

Hotel business has been good this year, the assistant general manager explained. Although the longshoremen's strikes on the Coast curtailed the tourist traffic in the Pacific Northwest in the middle summer, Mr. Robertson said business recuperated quickly.

LEGION HEAD HERE TODAY

Gen. Alex Ross Arrives in Victoria This Afternoon—Speaks Tonight

When General Alexander Ross, Dominion president of the Canadian Legion, steps off the Vancouver boat here, this afternoon, he will be a very busy man until he leaves again for the Mainland, at midnight.

Between 3:30 and 4 o'clock, General Ross will be received at Government House by Hon. J. W. Fordham Johnson, Lieutenant-Governor. Promptly at 6:15 o'clock, in Spencer's dining-room, General Ross will be guest of honor at a dinner arranged by the District Council of the Canadian Legion. Officials of the various Legion branches in Victoria and district will be present, and the president will answer questions regarding the activities of the Legion throughout Canada.

Later, at 8 o'clock in City Temple, General Ross will address a public meeting of ex-service men and those interested in returned men's welfare. He will give an account of the Dominion convention, held in March, and the work he has accomplished since that time. His address will be broadcast over CFCF.

PRAIRIE JUDGE

General Alexander Ross, K.C., C.M.G., D.S.O. and Bar, V.D., is not only a distinguished soldier, but a Saskatchewan judge. Noted particularly for his naturalization work, General Ross is a friend of many emigrants from Central Europe, who now reside in the same district as he does.

Formerly commander of the 6th Infantry Brigade in Flanders, General Ross is a great favorite among returned soldiers. For years he was president of the Yorkton branch of the Canadian Legion. He was unanimously re-elected president of the branch year after year. This year, General Ross became Dominion president of the Canadian Legion, an enviable honor.

Alexander Ross was born near Forbes, Scotland, and, with his parents, came to Canada and settled near Regina. Their home was destroyed by fire, and the family moved to Regina.

ADMITTED TO BAR

There, young Ross qualified himself for the Bar before he was eighteen, and had to wait until he was twenty-one before he could be admitted. From then on, his interest was in the militia and law. He joined the 95th Saskatchewan Rifles, and when war broke, he raised the Regina draft of the 11th Battalion, was later made captain of the 28th Battalion, then major, and finally, when it went Overseas, was second in command. To his credit he has the battles of St. Eloi, Hooge and the Somme, with front-line action. Finally, he was made commander in October, 1916, and commander of the brigade in October, 1918, and served in all later battles.

Freedom of Press Vanished in Most European NationsBorder Guards Confiscate Visitor's Books and Documents on Flimsiest Pretext—Book Reading for People Has Been Reduced to Penny Novels and Social and Economic Subjects

PARIS.—Acting on Pope's celebrated saying that "a little learning is a dangerous thing," the dictatorial and semi-dictatorial governments in Europe have now placed so many restrictions on the dissemination of news that it can be said that in three-quarters of Continental Europe freedom of the press no longer exists.

As to books: this is the era of the detective story's triumph. Wherever you go, in Poland, Hungary, in Austria or Germany, you see people reading penny dreadfuls, glorified blood and thunder adventure stories and thrilling love-romances. That's all there is being printed nowadays. Serious discussions on pressing social and economic problems which vitally affect millions of human beings, whether in the form of novels, essays or newspaper articles, are taboo.

SEARCHED AT BORDER
At every frontier station you are searched for documents. The fact that you happen to be in possession of a book, no matter what book, makes you a suspect on sight at half a dozen frontiers which I could name. The border censors are gentlemen in jackboots, equipped for their jobs with revolvers and accoutred with a lot of gold braid on their hats. A book is considered a greater potential danger in some countries now than a trunkful of cocaine or opium. To save yourself the best thing to do is to throw away all printed matter before you cross a frontier. That's what I'm doing now. I travel "light."

It comes too expensive, otherwise. The Egyptian border police have my copy of "Dreiser Looks at Russia," the G.P.U., at Nigorelle, got Trotsky's "Was Nun?" and the Czech gentleman not long ago annexed my "Fontamara," by Silone. Some day, if I ever get a copy, I'll carry the revival songs of Moody and Sankey to see what the Camille Nere at Vingimilla think of the music.

An Austrian journalist, who was formerly a financial and economic problems in the great countries of the world, said to me the other day: "Every article of mine which I wrote during the past year has been rejected. No matter how innocuous I make them, the editors dare not accept responsibility for them."

CANNOT CRITICIZE HOME
I write about financial and economic problems in the great countries of the world, said to me the other day: "Every article of mine which I wrote during the past year has been rejected. No matter how innocuous I make them, the editors dare not accept responsibility for them."

HARD GETTING NEWS
I think I have as much experience as anyone in European travel after ten years of it with but three months' absence, and therefore, I may perhaps speak with a certain degree of authority. It is infinitely more difficult for the news gatherer in Europe now than it was a decade ago. There is no news; far from it, but it is not as easily accessible. Elaborate systems of propaganda have been set up to stir the inquiring reporter in the "right" direction. If he reports on a touring of this kind, he finds doors suddenly closing and men whom he approaches curiously reticent. In the past it happened sometimes that a fellow-journalist in Vienna or Berlin or Warsaw or some other town approached you for some statement on the way things impressed you in his country. The notes you criticized, whether it was the stage you discussed, or the literature, or the social conditions encountered, the better he liked it. I mean reasonable criticism, of course. They argued to and fro with you, and out of the class of opinions the truth generally emerged.

ALL EXCEPT RUSSIA
Now all they want you to say is that there is the greatest country in the world, that you are struck with the perfect order that prevails, that you are struck speechless with the cleanliness of the streets and with the beauty of the local femininity. A

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

PRESERVING THE TEETH, INSIDE AND OUT

"There are groups of people in parts of the world not yet affected by the great American diet of meat, cooked starches and sweets, who live long lives without the dentist, the toothbrush, tooth paste or powder, and with little or no decay of the teeth. Dr. Boots has demonstrated this among the Koreans, Dr. Gyal among the shepherds of South Germany and the Swiss mountaineers, and Dr. Waugh among the Eskimos of Labrador and Alaska. Each of these dentists has shown that wherever the American diet enters, decay of the teeth enters with it."

I am quoting from an article in The Dominion Dental Journal, entitled "Errors and Facts About Teeth Decay."

Dr. Fones, in Bridgeport, Conn., examined the mouths of 600 young men, none of whom had visited a dentist or used a toothbrush. The mouths of the 200 young men whose parents came from Northern Italy and surrounding districts, could hardly have been more unclean, but the teeth were practically free from decay. The mouths of the 400 young men who had lived on the American diet were ravaged with decay.

Professor and Mrs. Mellanby, of England, and Dr. and Mrs. Agnew, Canada, have shown that with the right kinds of foods, decay of the teeth may be prevented, and where decay has already started its progress can be stopped.

The best foods to preserve the teeth are milk, cheese, butter, vegetables, oranges, lemons and cod liver oil.

However, as we were not born in Northern Italy, and have just the kind of teeth that our parents gave us, together with their food habits, it does make difference to our teeth if we neglect to clean them. Parts of the food left on the teeth—and the enamel of the teeth may have tiny cracks in it—means that as this food decays, it may enter into these cracks and attack the tooth proper.

Therefore, in this country anyway, aside from eating the proper foods, brushing the teeth, up and down, regularly, and rinsing out the mouth after meals, will mean that you are doing all that is possible to prevent the loss of your teeth.

Unc' Billy Possum's Surprise

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Everybody at Unc' Billy Possum's party was asking everybody else what the surprise could be which Unc' Billy had said he had for them. He had climbed up on a stump and told them that he had a surprise, and then he had accused them of not being interested. He had said that he had a surprise, and then he had accused them of not being interested. He had said that he had a surprise, and then he had accused them of not being interested.

Billy Mink spoke of the matter to Little Joe Otter, and Little Joe Otter spoke of the matter to Jerry Muskrat, and Jerry Muskrat spoke of the matter to Sammy Jay, and right while he was speaking there came a shrill scream of "Thief! Thief! Thief!"

There, from a thick hemlock tree nearby, and the voice was just like the voice of Sammy Jay.

Sammy Jay became greatly excited. There, he cried, "you heard that when you was standing right in front of me and talking to me, Jerry Muskrat! You know that I wasn't making a sound! I told you that I hadn't been screaming in the night, and this proves it!"

Jerry Muskrat looked as if he couldn't believe his own ears. Just then the voice of Stickytoes the Treelard began to croak, "It's going to rain! It's going to rain! It's going to rain!"

Everybody noticed it and looked up at the tree, and while they were all trying to see Stickytoes something dropped plopp! right into their midst. It was Stickytoes himself and he had dropped from another tree altogether.

"You hear it!" he shrieked, dancing up and down he was so angry. "You hear it! It isn't me, is it? That's my voice, yet it isn't me, because I am right here! How can I be here and over there, too? Tell me that!"

No one could tell him, and Stickytoes continued to scold and sputter.

"Mah friends of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows, Ah wants y'all to know mah friend, Mistah Mocking Bird, who has come up from mah ol' home down in Ol' Virginia. He has the most wonderful voice in the world, and when he wants to he can make it sound just like the voice of any one of y'all. We all is right sorry to 't the trouble we all has made. It was all a joke, and now we asks you pashon. Mah friend Mocker would like to stay here and live if y'all is willing," said Unc' Billy.

Next Story: "Mistah Mocker Makes Himself at Home."

The first card party and dance of the Winter season will be held by the Mount View High School P.T.A. tomorrow evening, starting at 9 o'clock. As last year's series of dances proved so successful, the series is starting a month earlier this year. The same type of refreshments, music and prizes will be provided and it is expected that there will be a large attendance.

MOUNT NEWTON
The Mount Newton High School Association held a successful bridge and five hundred card party at the high school, on Saturday evening. Those winning prizes for bridge were: First, Mrs. W. Bate and Mr. F. Sutton, and second, Mrs. L. Thomson and Mr. H. T. Wright. The five hundred prizes went to Mr. E. Barup and Rev. Father Scheelan. Refreshments were served by the P.T.A. committee. The association held a tea, on Saturday, and completed the painting of the bicycle shed. The committee wishes to thank all those who willingly turned out to help.

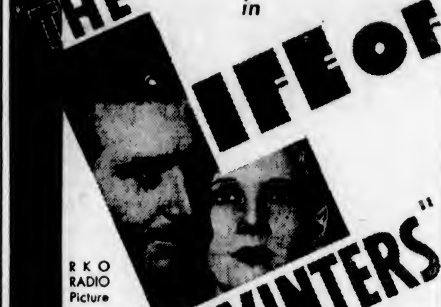

WEDDINGS
TYSON-BARLOW
The wedding was solemnized, in a pretty setting of flowers and Autumn foliage, in the Douglas Street Baptist Church last evening at 8 o'clock, Rev. F. W. McKinnon officiating. Betty, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Barlow, 999 Tattersall Drive, and Mr. David Tyson, third son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Tyson, 1700 Douglas Street, were united in marriage. The bride wore a charming frock of white net and a white crepe de Chine hat, and was attended by Miss Mary Crowe, in a frock of blue floral georgette and a blue hat. They both carried bouquets of roses, chrysanthemums and carnations. Mr. Tyson was supported by his brother, and the ushers were Mr. W. Tyson and Mr. J. Barlow. A reception for relatives was held afterwards at the home of the groom's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Tyson will make their home on Glasgow Street.

SMITH-ROWEBOTTOM
The wedding of Muriel Hilda, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Rowebottom, 1950 Granite Street, and Mr. Elmer Grant Smith, only son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Smith, of Hamilton, Ont., took place at the home of the bride's parents at 8:30 o'clock last evening. Rev. F. C. Rowebottom officiated. As the bride entered the room, the wedding march was played by Mrs. Beach, accompanied on the violin by her son, Mr. Elmer Grant Smith. During the ceremony, the bride and groom stood beneath an archway decorated with pink and white carnations, lilies and ferns.

Mr. Rowebottom gave his daughter in marriage, and she wore a pretty frock of white crepe de Chine with a blue point d'esprit and silver slippers and held a sheaf of large yellow chrysanthemums. The bridesmaid was Miss Margaret Hunt, in a gown of rosewood silk crepe fashioned with a high neckline and puffed elbow sleeves, who held a sheaf of small pink and white chrysanthemums. The best man was Mr. William Boyd. While the register was being signed, Mrs. W. Petrie sang "At Dawning."

Mr. and Mrs. Rowebottom welcomed the guests, the latter wearing a frock of rosewood silk crepe de Chine with a short jacket, and they were assisted by Mrs. E. G. Rowebottom, in a crepe de Chine frock. They both wore corsage bouquets of roses and carnations.

Pink and white chrysanthemums decorated the supper table, which was centred with the three-tiered cake

Dean Inge Views Birth-Rate Drop As World's Need

Of Birth Control Well-Known Cleric Says He Is on Side of a New Morality—Valedictory Book Covers Many Interesting Topics

By THOMAS T. CHAMPTON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP).—What is called rationalization of industry will go further and capital will continue to receive "hard measure" in the opinion of Very Rev. W. R. Inge, who marks his retirement this month from the Deanery of St. Paul's Cathedral by a modest little volume called "Vale." Incidentally the well-known clergyman described capital as "only a term of abuse for the other fellow's savings used protectively."

Dr. Inge covers a wide range of subjects in his book, and expresses views which are bound to attract attention and discussion. "The command 'be fruitful and multiply,' which is said to have been issued when the world contained only two human beings, is inapplicable now that it has to support two thousand millions," he remarks.

STATE COLONIZATION
The Dean points out how often he has urged that a remedy for the problem of population should be attempted through systematic State colonization, although he confesses the obstacles are enormous. "We no longer breed good colonists. The urban masses look to the State for everything, and do not wish to lose their share of the rates and taxes by leaving the country. The United States and the Dominions shut their doors against immigrants. All these facts have convinced every unprejudiced observer that the fall in the birth rate has been absolutely necessary."

Dr. Inge admits the original Gospel leaves no clear guidance or encouragement in what for many men and women today is the purest and most disinterested of their aspirations—the desire to help in making human life in this world a better thing in the future than it is now. "In my attitude towards birth control, euthanasia, and other test questions, I am, with some reservations, on the side of the new morality against the old. At the same time, I believe that no morality based on secularism can be satisfactory."

LOSS OF PRESTIGE
Expressing the belief that no British institution, certainly not the Church, has lost in prestige anything like so much as the House of Commons, Dr. Inge said: "In the few countries where popular government still survives, the elected governors are either despised or hated, or both."

In discussing the quest for happiness, Dr. Inge has not the slightest doubt that "domestic happiness is the greatest of all gifts, next to that of 'wisdom,' for which Solomon prayed, and which may be defined as a right judgment of the relative value of things."

A short retrospect of the Dean's boyhood days in a Yorkshire parish is followed by some account of his career at both Oxford and Cambridge Universities, before he entered upon his memorable tenure of the Deanery of St. Paul's, which lasted for nearly twenty-five years.

DEAN IS SURPRISED
Dean Inge confesses that the offer of the Deanery by Prime Minister Herbert H. Asquith was one of the greatest surprises of his life. Mr. Asquith's hope was that Dean Inge would revive the reputation of intellectual brilliance which used to be associated with this prominent Anglican cleric.

It may be noted that an Asquithian comment on Dean Inge has only just been revealed in some letters which the former Prime Minister wrote to an intimate friend. "He is a strange 'bunch' of things," he wrote, "with all the culture in the world, but with kinks and twigs both intellectual and temperamental which make him too freakish to be a real person. But he is the only ecclesiastical in these days who is really interesting."

I.O.D.E. Activities

Ganges Chapter
The monthly meeting of the Ganges Chapter, I.O.D.E., was held at the home of Mrs. C. Mackintosh, Ganges Harbor. The regent, Mrs. V. C. Best, was in the chair. Miss E. Walter, who recently returned from England, and Mrs. Gordon Reade, who has been for five months in Duncan, were both welcomed. Following routine business, papers were read from the National Chapter regarding establishing an emergency fund. It was decided to send an I.O.D.E. library to an isolated school. Mrs. Gordon Reade was nominated as delegate to the semi-annual meeting, to be held on October 18 in Chilliwack. Arrangements were completed for the sale of work to be held next Thursday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Faux, Ganges House. The stall holders and tea committee were elected. The tea hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Mackintosh and Mrs. H. Moorhouse.

GRAND ROMANCE DOMINION FILM

Story Surrounding Small Town
Gossip Revolved in "Life of Vergie Winters"

A small town scandal, with all of its gossip, malicious comment, and petty persecution, is revealed in "The Life of Vergie Winters," starring Ann Harding, which opens at the Dominion Theatre today.

Vergie is the town milliner. Shadwell is the community "favorite son," with a brilliant political future. Prevented from marrying Vergie, he carries on an affair with her in defiance of conventions after they discover, after Shadwell has been wed to another girl, that they were tricked into their mating by Vergie's father.

The story covers an epochal span of twenty-two years to the present time—tracing the poignant romance through its many vicissitudes to what is said to be an intensely dramatic climax.

Hein Vinson plays the cold and selfish wife of the story, and Betty Furness is seen as Miss Harding's daughter, a role which the child actress, Bonita Granville, carries in earlier scenes of the production.

PLAYHOUSE As Lee Tracy, Holly-
THEATRE wood star, says in
Universal's "I'll Tell the World," now at the Playhouse Theatre, the world is filled with strange coincidences. Tracy finds himself working with Gloria Stuart and Roger Pryor. He is currently reported engaged to Isabel Jewell. Pryor started Miss Jewell on the road to stage fame by securing a part for her in "Up Pops the Devil" on Broadway. And, to top this, Tracy and Pryor often nod to Margaret Sullivan, Universal star, as they pass her on the Universal sets, for both have worked in stage plays with her.

Farmers' Frolic Held at Ganges

The fancy dress dance or farmers' frolic, organized by the Islands Agricultural and Fruit Growers' Association, assisted by the Ganges Women's Institute, took place recently in the Mahon Hall, Ganges, and proved a most successful and enjoyable entertainment. Nearly 200 guests were present. Mr. C. F. Roberts acted as master of ceremonies. The attractive hall decorations were carried out under the direction of Mrs. T. F. Speed and helped, with sheets of corn, wheat, grain of all kinds and long streamers of Virginia creeper.

Preceding the supper, the grand march took place at 11:30 p.m., and later the prizes were presented by Mrs. Price to the following successful women and men competitors, whose costumes best depicted farmers, their wives and farm hands of any nationality and period: George West (Canadian), Mr. and Mrs. T. Lohwood (French), George Elliot (New England), Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ingles (Old English) and Mrs. N. W. Wilson. Other attractive costumes were those of Mrs. C. A. Goodrich, Arcadian shepherdes; Miss Daphne Morris, shepherdess; Mrs. J. Fanning and Miss Betty Morrison, Old English; Misses Daisy Evans and Gladys Winthrop, milkmaids. The judges were Mrs. F. W. Faux, S. Morrison and S. Merritt.

The contest prizes were won by Mrs. W. L. Rogers, Mrs. Gordon Reade, Mrs. Ryan, Misses Ruby Thompson and Marjorie Howard, Dick Chandler.

The prizes awarded during the evening took the form of farm produce, such as sacks of potatoes, boxes of apples, preserved fruits and vegetables, dressed chickens and baskets of eggs. Members of the orchestra from Victoria were attired in smocks, large straw hats and in other ways carried out the illusion of a farming community. The choruses of the specialty numbers were sung by C. F. Roberts. The supper arrangements were in the hands of members of the Women's Institute, including Mrs. N. W. Wilson, Mrs. Goodrich, Mrs. J. Anderson, Mrs. Charlesworth, Mrs. F. Stevens and others.

AT BELMONT CABARET
Many guests came to the Belmont Cabaret on Saturday night and were entertained by the distinctive floor presentations of Alan King and Arthur Groves. The former sang the song-hits of the last few weeks, "I Saw Stars," and gave, as an enthusiastically demanded encore, the older favorite, "Without a Song." Mr. Groves, later in the evening, made a great hit with Walter O'Keefe's "The Tattooed Lady," presenting it in his inimitable style. Among the guests were: Mr. Jackson, with twelve; Mr. Bell, with four; Mr. Roberts, with four; Mr. Alan Chambers, with four; Mr. Stafford Meldrum, with six; Miss Muriel Fisher, Miss Josephine Delves, Mr. T. Brown, Mrs. Grant, Mr. Gore, Miss Kate Parker, Miss Biggs, Mr. Smethurst, Mrs. Hartley, Mr. Harold Alder, Mr. and Mrs. Hawes, Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins, Miss H. Abbott, Mr. L. Chance, Mayor and Mrs. W. W. Waikem (Lady Smith), Miss Stuart (New York), Miss Lily Dumblerton, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Duval, Miss Frances Renfrew, Mr. Robert Renfrew, and many others.

PAUL DEAN BESTS ROWE IN PITCHERS' BATTLE

"Corky" Thomas Big Winner in Hill Climb Event; Sets Record

Goes Over 186-Foot Grade in 6 1-5 Seconds to Crack Record Set in 1931—Bob Shanks and Bill Espley Also Show Speed

Zooming his Indian over the 186-foot slope in 6 1-5 seconds, Frank "Corky" Thomas, B.C.A.S.A. rider, yesterday cracked the existing record for the annual Thanksgiving Day motorcycle hill climb at Mount Douglas Park. The event was sponsored by the Victoria Motorcycle Club.

By virtue of his extremely fast time, Thomas, who was riding a specially "souped" machine under the colors of the British Columbia Automobile Sports Association, smashed the record established in 1931 by George Reece, who drove his way over in seven seconds. Thomas won the F. W. Francis Challenge Trophy and the Vancouver Island championship.

THREE EVENTS SEEN

There were three events on the card at Mount Douglas, yesterday, and more than thirty-five riders, the cream of Victoria and district knights of the saddle, put on a fine show. Although there were no serious spills, several riders gave the 1,600 persons present plenty of thrills when their bikes stalled and jumped towards the barriers on the hill.

Bob Shanks, who has carried off the honors in many of the past events, proved he was not entirely out of competition when he cleared the hill in 8 3-5 seconds. This feat gave him the forty-five-cubic-inch cycle event, which was only open to V.M.C. members. Doug Hamilton was second, going over the top in 10 3-5 seconds, while Claude Butler was third, one-fifth of a second behind.

ENGLISH BIKE WINS

In the Paul Girardeau Memorial

Trophy climb, Bill Espley, aboard his Ariel, showed speed, when he tore over the hill in 7 2-5 seconds. Doug Hamilton, who placed second in 8 2-5 seconds, while Claude Butler was next, going over in 11 1-5 seconds.

The feature event of the day was the Francis Challenge Trophy trial, which Thomas carried off without much competition. Shooting away to a flying start on the thirty-foot runway "Corky" bounced, tore and otherwise got himself to the top, showing great control over his machine, who were waiting to greet him at the top.

Bill Espley, again on his English Ariel, took second place, mastering the grade in seven seconds. George Reece, former record holder, riding an Indian machine, was third in 7 2-5 seconds.

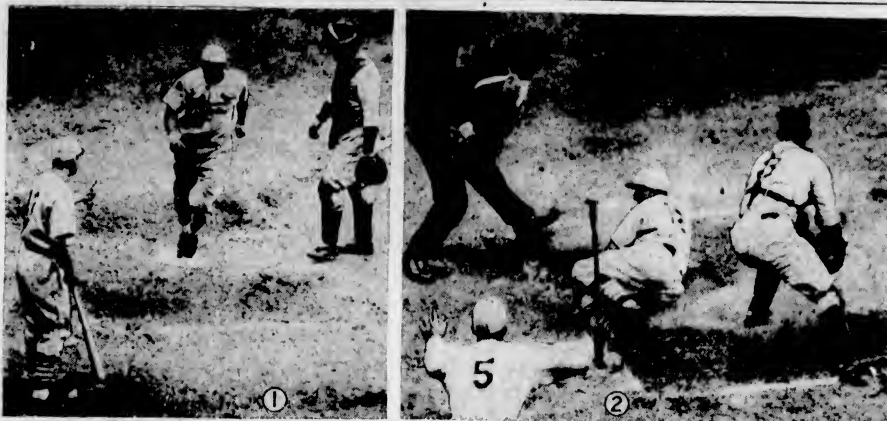

FINE ENTRY LIST

There were twenty-one entries in this event, and the boys certainly chewed up the hillside, making it difficult for riders far along the list to navigate the tough climb.

However, the customers went away well satisfied. Thanks of the Motorcycle Club are extended to the Saanich Police force for the efficient way in which they handled pedestrians at the slope greatly facilitating the event.

Officials in charge of the meet were Reg Williams, referee; Joe Andrews, J. Haggart and Henry Whitworth, starters; Johnny Northington, announcer; Jimmy Northington and Jack Ravensley, recorders; L. Scott, Walter Ward and George Weiburn, tape men; Able West, H. Francis and Jack Ravensley, timekeepers.

Thrills in Opening World Series Game

Above, the cameraman has caught two "thrill producers" at the opening world series game between the Tigers and Cardinals. (1) Shows Joe Medwick, Cardinals' outfielder, who was the batting star, as he drove out a home run in the fifth inning. He got four hits in five games at bat, three singles in addition to the homer. The bases were empty when he connected for the circuit. (2) Jim Collins, flashy first-sacker of the fast-traveling Cardinals, is shown coming in on the dirt in the third inning for a St. Louis tally. The Cardinals won 8 to 3.

Columbus Win From Toronto By 9-8 Score

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 8 (AP).—The Tampa and Columbus Red Birds went into the ninth inning four runs behind, but came out of it tonight one run ahead for a 9-8 victory over Toronto Maple Leafs and a 4-3 edge in games in the little world series.

The series, in which one team must win five, will end tomorrow, the moguls deciding to play on game at 3 p.m., and another at night, if necessary. Customers will be admitted to both games for one ticket.

GOLDSWORTHY IS BACK WITH HAWKS

MONTREAL, Oct. 8 (CP).—Leroy Goldsworthy can claim he was once a member of Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League, but he never donned the blue-blanc-rouge uniform of the club. Goldsworthy was obtained by the habitants from Chicago Black Hawks in the mammoth deal in which the Stanley Cup holder secured Howie Morenz from Canadiens. Major Fred McLaughlin, of Chicago, however, regretted letting Goldsworthy go and made a cash offer for the wingman, which Leo Landrum, managing director of Canadiens, accepted.

Consequently, Goldsworthy, a star in Winnipeg league circles, and former Edmonton hockey star, graduates from Canadiens without even having had to come to Montreal.

Orillia Terriers Trim Coast Squad In Second Fixture

Easterners Troupe Westminster Salmonbellies in Mann Cup Lacrosse Match by 19-6 Score—Wilson Nets Eight Fine Goals

BARRIE, Ont., Oct. 8 (CP).—Invaders, grasped the fancy of the fans with his courageous and speedy attacks. He fought the heavy stick of Bill Wilson writing the victory song, tonight again humbled New Westminster Salmonbellies, 19-6, as the Easterners marched to a second straight victory in the Dominion lacrosse finals. Terriers took another step closer to possession of the Mann Cup when they rode over Grumpy Spring's valiant boys with a smashing attack that nothing could stop.

Wilson was held well by the Salmonbellies until the last part of the match, when he broke from cover to accept Wilkes' passes that started a barrage on the Coast goal which swamped the visitors. Fourteen Orillia markers were pounded into the twine behind Henry Baker in the last half of the game.

It had been the hopes of Salmonbellies that tonight's game would end the march of Terriers, but the trim, fleet squad from Orillia proved a lone marker for the Coast. Nine more were pounded into the New Westminster twine in the third, while Spring's men managed to obtain two.

A third Coast team went to pieces as Terriers continued their drives. Alf Davy injected some life into the visitors in the final quarter, though the pep did not last long.

Davy started the session by scoring twice, but Wilson then was fed by Wilkes for three counters, and Downey added another.

Todd and Watson lost to Ripley and Mills in the foursomes, while Terry and Bowden took J. P. Morgan and Livsey into camp. In the singles, Todd, Terry and Bowden won from Ripley, Morgan and Livsey, respectively, while Mills turned in the lone Macaulay win.

RON WHITLAW IS WINNER OF COLONIST CUP

Turns In Net Total of 123 to Take Possession of Trophy at Macaulay

Ronald "Sonny" Whitlaw turned in fine net rounds of 75 and 78, to capture the handsome Daily Colonist Cup competition, which was completed at the Macaulay Point Golf Club on Sunday. Whitlaw played steady golf over the thirty-six holes, and takes possession of the silverware by a lone stroke over A. Brakes, who finished second with 124. G. M. Lindsay and Jimmy Simpson tied for the next two places with 127's, while A. Johnston took next position with 128.

The logical choice in the second game, and the great "Dizzy" Alvin Crowder, victim of Detroit's first collapse, but the battered, fiery Mickey Cochrane, manager of the Tigers, declared he might go so far as to send the powerful Rowe right back.

Meanwhile, Manager Frankie Frisch, of the Cardinals, has a choice between lefty Bill Hallahan, a victim of the Cardinals in the second game, and the great "Dizzy" Alvin Crowder, victim of Detroit's first collapse, but the battered, fiery Mickey Cochrane, manager of the Tigers, declared he might go so far as to send the powerful Rowe right back.

COCHRANE EXAMINED
Taken to a hospital after the game for X-rays and a thorough examination, Cochrane also was found to have a slightly pulled ligament just below the kneecap, but doctors expressed belief this was not serious enough to keep him from starting tomorrow's game.

Meanwhile the Tiger plot was ordered to remain in bed in the hospital over-night. Mickey himself scoffed at all suggestions he might not play. If necessary he can call on a reliable hand-hitting replacement in Ray Hayworth, but the was half a lap ahead of Frank Baylis, the crack local athlete, who made his debut into professional running. Stanley ran a great race, and deserves credit for the way he judged his course from the first to the concluding mile.

The race was run at the Horse Show Building, on a track that measures twelve laps to the mile. Considerable comment was caused after the race by several, who got their counts mixed up. To keep tab on 112 laps is no small matter, but all those in the centre of the ring compared their counts, which tallied. The time given for each of the miles is as follows:

First mile 5:20
Second mile 11:40
Third mile 17:45
Fourth mile 22:55
Fifth mile 27:45
Sixth mile 32:05
Seventh mile 37:38
Eighth mile 43:00
Ninth mile 48:42
Tenth mile 54:48

Today is soccer day in Victoria, for the season will be in full swing again, commencing this afternoon. All of the soccerists around the city have had a good rest since last year, and will commence today refreshed and eager for a good series of matches. All of the athletic prowess in the vicinity of Victoria will be busy this afternoon, and some of the grounds will be the scene of more than one game. Altogether there are 176 soccer players scheduled to take positions on their various teams today in the first, second and junior divisions. Besides these there are a number of school games and scratch matches on, so that soccer players will be astir all over from now on.

William Stanley, known all over the Pacific Coast as the San Francisco whirlwind, last night, at the Horse Show Building at the Fair Grounds, demonstrated that he is a deserving of his title by defeating a classy field of the best long-distance runners which has ever responded to a pistol shot in this city. The attendance was small, not more than 250 people being present. Stanley covered the distance in the remarkably fast time of 54:48, and was half a lap ahead of Frank Baylis, the crack local athlete, who made his debut into professional running. COCHRANE AND ROWE INJURED

Both in Hospital Following Yesterday's World Series Game With Cards

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

DETROIT, Oct. 8 (AP).—The hopes of Detroit Tigers for their first world baseball championship after the defeat of their renowned Lynwood ("Schoolboy") Rowe by twenty-one-year-old Paul Dean of St. Louis Cardinals in the sixth game, hung in the balance, tonight, with Rowe and Manager Mickey Cochrane in the hospital for treatment of injuries, and a storm of conjecture raging, on the eve of the seventh and deciding contest, scheduled for tomorrow at Navin Field.

The fiery Cochrane, whose heroic backstopping and hitting have been vital factors in the Tigers' fight, emerged from Rowe's game with his second spine wound of the series and a slightly pulled ligament in his left leg.

He will play, tomorrow, despite the injury, but meanwhile probably will have to discard all thought of sending Rowe back into way for the second straight day, as a result of a swelling on the back of the young pitcher's right hand.

While Cochrane bears the scars of battle, it developed Rowe was the victim of a combination of singular events not connected with his performance this afternoon, when the Cardinals delivered a robust attack on his fast-ball delivery, led by the surprising Leo Durocher, St. Louis shortstop, and pulled out a 4-3 decision in nine tinging innings of warfare.

SOOKE CAGERS TAKE OPENERS

Chalk Up Victories Over Hudson's Bay and Royal Oak in Basketball League Fixtures

SOOKE, Oct. 8. — Playing in the opening fixtures of the Saanich and Suburb Basketball League here, Saturday evening, Sooke men's and women's cage teams chalked up victories over Royal Oak and the Hudson's Bay quintettes, respectively. The former squad chalked up a 57-21 score over the Oaks, while the fair sex squad registered a 15-13 verdict over the departmental store representatives.

With Eileen "Babs" Ealer setting the pace, the smart Hudson's Bay quintette forged to the front early and when the rest interval arrived the Bays were leading their heavier opponents. However, soon after the third quarter got under way the locals pulled up close to their rivals and then eked out a two-point victory in a thrilling final quarter.

EASY VICTORY
Outclassed in all departments of the game, Royal Oak bowed before the more experienced and surer-shooting seniors, 57-21. In the final game.

F. O. Harding refereed, and the teams follow:
Sooke — O. Clark, H. Welsh, A. George, H. Clarke, P. Johnson and W. Arden.
Hudson's Bay — I. Stewart, E. Ester,

Babe Ruth Will Not Be Regular

DETROIT, Oct. 8 (AP).—Babe Ruth said today he would retire from major baseball next year unless he can sign a contract as a player-manager or bench-manager.

"I won't sign a player's contract for 1934," said the famous slugger, for the reason I have no intention of sitting on the bench or being around merely for pinch-hitting purposes. That doesn't appeal to me at all.

"I'll quit unless I can get a job as manager. I haven't had an offer to take hold of any club, but I have made up my mind as to what I want to do, if there is any future for me in the big leagues."

Virginia Vane Says:

ACQUAINTING BROTHER WITH THE FACT THAT HIS GIRL FRIEND IS NOT GOOD ENOUGH FOR HIM

Dear Virginia Vane: My brother, who is twenty-five years old, has been going with a young girl three years his junior for the past three or four months, and I am worried about the affair. This girl, whom my brother talks of marrying, is very much on the wrong side of the railroad tracks in our town. By that I mean that she has a very unsavory reputation, she works in one of our local restaurants that is patronized mostly by the mill workers, and I know that even while she is seeking to marry my brother she is more than friendly with a married man. She is very attractive in an ordinary way, but I know that the marriage would be absolutely fatal to everyone. Shall I tell my brother what I know of this girl, even though it may mean losing him as a pal—Kid Sister.

It would appear that your brother is just sowing a couple of wild oats, and that he will wake up presently to your attitude in the matter. That is if the girl is as bad as you seem to think she is. Certainly the fact that she goes out with a married man is enough against her, but her work in a restaurant should not prejudice you. It is unfortunate that she must do this work, especially in such a place, but many fine girls are forced into difficult circumstances in these hard times. It would be better to obtain more conclusive evidence of this girl's ineligibility. Perhaps she can even explain satisfactorily her friendliness with this man you mention. It would be disastrous indeed to rush into this business without proper grounds for your objections.

If you find that your worst fears are the facts, I am sure that, properly presented to your brother, they will bring him out of his coma in a rush. Ridicule is your best weapon in presenting them to him. Let him think that you do not take the affair at all seriously, as your knowledge of this girl would make such a match laughable and that he could not really be in his right mind when contemplating it. Along this line it would be wise to sacrifice yourself, asking him to introduce you to his goddess, and letting him see how impossible it would be for you and she to become friends, much less sisters-in-law. Many's the boy who, while finding perfect contentment in somebody's society, would have an awful conscience about letting his sister have the same sort of relationship. No good can possibly come of using the conventional arguments about his future, children, etc., as this would be too blunt a criticism of his taste, and only serve to alienate his confidence in you. It is better to take the whole matter as lightly as possible. Expect the best from him, and I am sure he will live up to your highest expectations.

Andrew: I am glad to hear that things are working out in the way we hoped. Go easy, however, now that you see how vain this girl can be. Precipitate marriage without a correction of this fault might prove to be a source of great unhappiness to you. I agree that you have been absent long enough, and if her love is worth all the trouble you have been having to get it, then it will endure a little genuine attention at this time.

Dear Miss Vane: I have been having a crush on a boy for the past six months, and though he is polite to me he has never given me a sign that I might hope some day to have him for a real "boy friend." We see each other every day, and I am so eager to show my regard for him that I have been disciplined several times by the teacher for passing notes, etc. Don't you think he must know that I care? Can you suggest anything that might help me to win this boy? I am seventeen and he is eighteen.—Hope.

Yes, there are many things you can do to win this young man, but the very first thing on the list is to stop embarrassing him with your too-public attention. Nothing could defeat your purpose so effectively as your present desperate attitude. If he has no interest in you by this time, the fault lies with yourself. You apparently do not have much personality for him, and if he thinks of you at all it is probably as a fresh kid, who has no better manners than to let him in for a public humiliation. You are very young, but now is a swell time to start developing your character and personality so that you won't be overlooked by this young man or by anyone else you happen to meet. Suppose you get out to excel in your classwork. Not only would this gain your friend's immediate respect, but it would take your mind off your own eagerness to impress this boy, and very likely a slight preoccupation would awaken his regard for you, especially as he cannot but miss your present frantic efforts to attract him. Remember that any girl can loaf her way through classes, and perhaps be pretty popular with a certain set of light-weights while she's doing it, but that the girl that can get a flock of "A's" has very little trouble getting the cream of the crop in the matter of young men as well.

CORRECTING ONE'S WEAKNESS

Unpopular: You seem to have pulled yourself to pieces very completely, and for that you must get credit, as very few have the courage to self-analyze so searchingly as you have. However, it is all very well to realize one's weaknesses when correcting them in the object, but there can be no improvement if, as you seem to be doing, you accept them as fact and make them part of your personality. That everyone around you seems worried for your happiness should make you very pleased. Appreciate that interest such as this from friends is very unusual, and the recipient very fortunate. Hold on to the good points you have and correct what weaknesses you can, and let the rest go into oblivion.

ON KISSING

Billie: You seem to be doing all right without letting yourself be kissed, and one of the reasons for your success with these boy friends of yours is probably because they know your kisses are pretty important to you. If you really care for this boy and feel that he is intelligent enough to appreciate your kiss as something fine for both of you, then I can see no harm in allowing him this privilege. However, if it is only through demonstrating your affection for him in this manner that you can hold him, then it would be better to reserve your affection for someone who has shown his real interest and respect for you in some other way. The danger with kissing is that so many young girls take it as a sign of devotion on the part of their swains, when in reality it has nothing to do with it. Go easy and remember that your self-respect and good reputation will do more for your happiness than any number of passing flirtations.

"TO RUN AFTER TWO HARES"

Ever since man got away from the simplest mode of existence, in which he did everything for himself, without reliance upon his neighbor for any of his needs, he has recognized the necessity for singleness of purpose in his ambitions and in his means of making a living.

Indicative of this thought are a her.

great many homely colloquialisms and proverbs, such, for instance, as "The jack-of-all-trades is master of none."

Included in this category is the expression "To hunt (run after) two hares," in reference to the man who has too many interests to give them proper attention.

We have the line from the proverb: "He who hunts two hares leaves the one and loses the other."

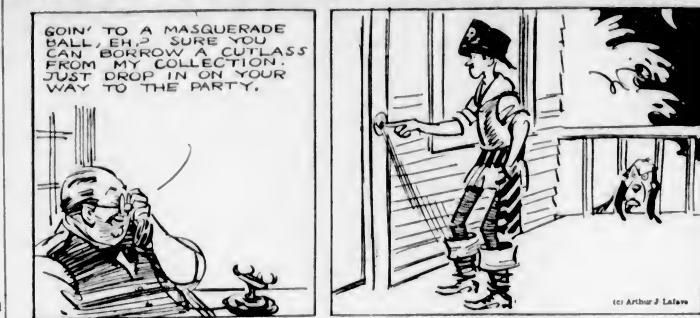

"June was lucky in catching such a rich husband."

What Today Means

"LIBRA"

If October 9 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:45 to 10:45 a.m., from 1:45 to 3:45 p.m. The danger periods are from 6:45 to 8:45 a.m., from 3:45 to 5:45 p.m. and from 7:45 to 9:45 p.m. It might prove advisable on this date to do whatever you may have to do, either of a social or business nature, with a great deal of precision. Any actions lacking in exactness or failing to have a definite reason might cause some of your affairs to become complicated. On this October 9 you may be tempted to procrastinate in regard to attending to either a business or social letter or message requiring an answer, and should you give in to this inclination, you might be subjected to adverse criticism. This October 9 should prove favorable for all forms of financial negotiations, especially where real estate is involved. Speculative ventures, however, should be avoided, unless you are in a position not to suffer should a loss later on occur. Aggressiveness may possibly prove helpful in business. Short interviews probably will prove more effective than long ones, if discussing legal or commercial matters. If planning to entertain, informality might be more appreciated than an overdose of conventionality, and might be the means of establishing intimacies that will prove of value. Married and engaged couples, as well as those seeking the path that leads to wedlock, will display wisdom if they bear in mind, regardless what your relationship might be, that too much familiarity breeds contempt. True love is founded on the cornerstone of respect.

If a woman and October 9 is your natal day, Nature has undoubtedly treated you most kindly by endowing you so liberally with many graces and virtues, that in all likelihood their recognition will favorably affect your future. Money and influence should eventually enable you to accomplish a great deal of good. Home life might prove the best for one of your disposition, though you should have the ability to succeed in some form of art, writing, educational or social welfare work, or something requiring creative originality in designing. The child born on October 9, as a rule, is blessed with a most attractive personality. This should prove its greatest asset in life, enabling it to achieve popularity and success.

Plan 6,540-Foot Tower for Paris For Wartime Use

PARIS—The erection in Paris of a gigantic concrete tower 6,540 feet high—nearly seven times the height of the Eiffel Tower—is proposed by Henri Lossier, a constructional expert, and by M. Faure Dujarrig, an architect.

The main function of the tower, which would be fitted with anti-aircraft guns, would be to aid in protecting the city from aerial attacks. It also could be turned to valuable therapeutic uses, as it could provide a sanatorium conferring all the benefits of brilliant sunshine and purity of atmosphere.

If the scheme proves feasible, it is hoped to have the construction finished in time for the big Paris Exhibition in 1937. The tower, conical in shape, is designed to measure 650 feet in diameter at the base and 130 feet in diameter at the summit.

The Eiffel Tower, which would appear lilliputian by comparison, is only 984 feet high.

The Vital Organs Depend on Nerve Force

Machinery is useless without power to run it, and the machinery of the body is no exception. The heart, the lungs, the stomach, the filter and fail in their functions, when the all important nerve force runs low. Because it is the power which operates and controls the vital organs. By creating new nerve force Dr. Chase's Nerve Food Restores vigor to the bodily organs. Digestion improves, headaches disappear. Soon you are sleeping and resting well, and know again the joy of living. Don't lose a single day in beginning the use of this time-proven restorative.

SILVER SLIPPERS

SYNOPSIS
Joan Dudley, vacationing in Maine with her wealthy aunt, Adelaide Delafield, is engaged to marry Drew Hallam, man of the world, who is twice the age of his fiancée.

CHAPTER II
Drew told himself that Joan's youth was lovely. And as for the aunt, she was a vain old creature. A little tact and loads of flattery would keep her complacent. Joan had a right to believe herself an heiress, and it would make a great difference in every way if he could be sure she would inherit a fortune. Romance if it was to be worth while for himself and Joan must have its nest well feathered.

They set their horses presently to a gallop. They rode on and on like wild waifs in the mist, hearts beating, blood surging, gay, careless of the future. The present was enough. They would make the most of it.

Their way led back across the moor and up to the top of a bluff where stood a log house which had been originally the Summer residence of a retired sea captain from one of the towns below. Wings had been added from time to time because of the needs of an increasing family of children and grandchildren. But now there were no children. There was only Penelope Sears, a widow of sixty, to walk through the sedate and silent chambers and remember the companions of earlier days.

Penelope, having only a modest income, took paying guests in the hot season. She had made the log cabin comfortable with bathrooms, huge fireplaces and old furniture which belonged to the simple and somewhat austere background. She wanted people to be satisfied, and as a rule they were. But this Summer there was one woman who was not satisfied. She sat now in her room which overlooked the bluff and voiced her dissatisfaction to her English maid, Farley.

"The sooner I go the better," "Miss Joan will be disappointed," "She'll soon get over it," "Farley, who had just put on her mistress' head a transforming structure of carefully waved white hair, studied the effect in the mirror. Then she said, "Will the Hallams go if we do?"

"Of course. He's mad about Joan."

Nothing further was said about it while Farley added finishing touches to her mistress' toilet, but Mrs. Delafield's quick brain was busy. Drew Hallam and Joan! A good thing for both of them. And as for herself, a troublesome grandniece off her hands and a charming grandnephew gained. She liked Drew and his sister Nancy. They treated her as contemporaries, though she was easily three decades ahead of them. Her seventy years to Drew's forty and Nancy's thirty-eight. And way down the line, Joan—sweet and twenty.

Adelaide was dressed and ready for dinner when Joan came in from her ride. By all the arts at Farley's command she had been refreshed and rejuvenated. There was a faint flush of rose on her cheeks, but she was in a frightful temper. The coming of the fog had been the last straw. She felt that somebody besides Providence must be to blame for it. And if they were not to blame, at least she could vent her spite on them.

Joan bursting in had a beauty which needed no artificial aids. Her riding-coat was green, and her breeches white, her hat was off and showed her hair, thick and brown, with a wave of its own and drawn, Madonna-fashion, over her ears. Joan's shorn head was a thing of the past. She hated the commonplace. When everyone else was shingled, it was time, she felt, to have a nice flat little bun at the back of her neck. Her eyes were darkly blue, her lashes black. She was not beautiful, but the richness of her coloring and a certain slender grace made her good to look upon. There was, too, in her manner an appealing, almost childlike quality which gave the lie to her twenty years.

"Darling," said said, "I'm afraid I'm late. But it was such a perfect ride." "In this weather?" "Her tone should have warned Joan. But it did not. She blundered on. "How lovely you look. That green and silver gown is gorgeous." "Are you saying that because you mean it, Joan? Or because you want my money?" Joan stared at her for a moment speechless. Then she demanded, chokingly, "Oh, why should you say a thing like that to me?" She began to sob. She was over-excited, and the reaction from her ecstatic moments with her lover broke down her composure. She cried and cried, standing in the middle of the floor with her hands before her face.

"Joan," Adelaide commanded, stop it."

But she couldn't stop. "You shouldn't have said it. Oh, you shouldn't."

Her distress was so genuine that Mrs. Delafield softened. "Well, perhaps I shouldn't. I'm a cross old thing, Joan. And the deadliness of all this is driving me mad."

Joan dropped on her knees beside her aunt's chair and hid her wet cheek against the wrinkled hand which gripped the arm of it. She was still crying, but with less passion.

The old woman bent down to her. "I'm a cross old thing," she repeated.

Joan lifted her head. "You know I love you," she said.

Adelaide knew that the child
